

From: Evison, Leah
To: Arcaute, Francisco
Subject: FW: Star Tribune story on General Mills vapor intrusion site ...
Date: Friday, March 14, 2014 10:52:00 AM

This came in when I was out of the office yesterday.

Leah (today at 773-326-9785)

Leah Evison
U.S. EPA Region 5 Superfund Division
Remedial Project Manager stationed at 520 Lafayette Road North
St. Paul, MN 55155
evison.leah@epa.gov
651-757-2898

From: Olson, Jeremy [<mailto:Jeremy.Olson@startribune.com>]
Sent: Thursday, March 13, 2014 1:19 PM
To: Evison, Leah
Subject: Star Tribune story on General Mills vapor intrusion site ...

From: Jeremy Olson
Medical Reporter
Star Tribune
Minneapolis, Minn.
612-673-7744

Leah, I am planning a story for the Sunday Star Tribune newspaper on the history of the General Mills cleanup site near the Minneapolis Como neighborhood and I could use your help. Part of my reporting has been reviewing MPCA documents and correspondence on this site, and obviously your name has been on a lot of those documents as an EPA official keeping an eye on this site. I met with MPCA officials earlier this week and am interviewing General Mills officials Friday afternoon.

I would appreciate if you could discuss EPA's role with the site – past, present and future. The federal role has been more generic oversight for nearly 30 years at this site, but I'm wondering if the EPA might be getting involved with the cleanup (or not).

If you could call or email yet this week, that would be great. If you need permission from an EPA media affairs person first, please let me know who I'd need to contact. But maybe we could have a conversation on background first?

Thanks.